

Orland Twp. Couple Dies In Rail Crossing Crash

An Orland Township couple was fatally injured Sunday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was struck by a Norfolk & Western (formerly the Wabash) passenger train on the 179th St. crossing about three-quarters of a block east of U.S. 6. This is about a mile west of Wolf Rd., north of Mokena, in Orland Township.

The victims were Sam Gawlik, 52, and his wife, Marie, 52, who resided on U.S. 45 at 175th St., Orland Township altho they have a Tinley Park rural route mailing address.

According to State Trooper Earl Enders, Orland

Park, of District 4, who investigated the accident, the Gawliks had turned right off U.S. 6 to go east on 179th St. the train was traveling northeasterly, proceeding from Decatur to Chicago.

George E. Snow, engineer, was quoted as saying that the automobile appeared to slow as it approached the crossing and then speeded up.

The train struck the car broadside and carried it about 130 feet along the track, it was said.

There is no protection at this crossing, it was said, other than the conventional sign, the cross bars like the letter X on a post to alert persons using the highway that they are approaching a railroad crossing.

The car was struck on the passenger or right side. This side of the car was ripped and torn from the cowl to the back end. The driver's side escaped heavy damage, as did the front end.

The accident happened about 3:40 p.m. Mrs. Gawlik was brought into Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, at 4:15 and died 30 minutes later, it was reported. Mr. Gawlik, who suffered a severe head injury, was brought to the hospital at 5 o'clock and was pronounced dead on arrival. Altho no formal pronouncement had been made previously those who handled the accident were of the opinion that Mr. Gawlik died at the scene.

Who was driving at the time was not readily determined.

Mr. Gawlik was a foreman for a packing company at Chicago. The Gawliks are survived by a son and daughter, Ronald R. and Marie D.

There are also other immediate survivors for each. Those surviving Mr. Gawlik are two sisters, Mrs. Marie Fasal and Mrs. Stella Myscowski. Mrs. Gawlik is survived by her mother, Mrs. Anna Novak; two sisters, Mrs. Angeline Meida and Mrs. Helen Rozdilsky, and four brothers, John, Frank, Mike and Henry Novak.

Removal was to the Schmaedeke funeral chapel on Harlem Av. at Worth, from where services were held yesterday (Wednesday) morning at 9:30 o'clock to St. Mary Church, Mokena, at 10:30 where a solemn requiem high mass was celebrated for the joint service. Interment was in Resurrection Cemetery, 72d and Archer.

Get Go On Building I-80 Link East Of Wolf Road

Announcement at Springfield that a $2,756,964 contract has been awarded Arcole Midwest Corp., Evanston, for the building of 4.54 miles of Interstate Highway 80 in Will County from Wolf Rd., Mokena, to 76th Av., just west of Tinley Park and the Cook County line, has served to dispell some of the reports that have been in circulation since President Johnson ordered a cut-back in federal road spending.

It was announced a couple of weeks ago that Arcole was low bidder but rumors in the area had it that the contract would not be let and that work would halt on I-80, despite the fact that the defense department has ordered it completed. Getting supplies to the West Coast for shipment to Vietnam is a top priority business, it was said.

The United States has been caught several times before by serious delays in moving supplies to the West Coast for shipment to service units in the Pacific and apparently the defense department does not want it to continue to happen, according to advices from Washington.

When bids were sought to complete the missing 29-mile link the entire project carried the "urgent" stamp and in October it was announced that I-80 must be ready to carry traffic by November, 1967, regardless of whether interchanges or grade separations were completed.

It is understood, however, thru a usually reliable source, that the powers that be will huddle in Springfield next week to discuss construction of the interchange at U.S. 45 and I-80. The plans are said to be ready and if the conference next week doesn't result in taking bids on the work in the immediate future, persons in the area should find out what is to be done and how it will effect their property. Some property owners are fighting to prevent becoming landlocked.

The Orland Park village board, at its meeting Monday night, declared its readiness to press for completion of the U.S. 45 interchange. Trustee Joseph Henely told the board members that reports were out that while I-80 would be opened to traffic next year it might be several years before the exits and entrances were built.

Crews from Arcole Construction were in the fields east of Wolf Rd. last week, apparently engaged in preliminary work involving tile lines and getting ready for grading operations.

Most of the grading has been finished between U.S. 30 west of New Lenox, and Wolf Rd. It is reported that trouble has been encountered near Marley where a bridge is to be built over the Norfolk & Western railroad (formerly the Wabash). Persons familiar with the area have said from the beginning, when I-80 was routed thru Marley that the peat there could, and probably would give engineers and construction crews a problem.

With the letting of the contract to Arcole for building I-80 from Wolf Rd. to 76th Av. the Will County segment is covered. It is said that the contracts thru Cook County are let, or will be immediately so there is good reason to believe that the highway will be carrying traffic by this time next year, it was said but it was hoped that some of the interchanges would be ready at the same time. Work is going forward on the interchange at Harlem Av. in Tinley Park.

The bridge over I-80 on Cedar Rd., north of New Lenox, was to have been open by Thanksgiving, it was said, but one set of engineers reportedly designed the approaches and another set drew the plans for the bridge and bridge floor. There was approximately a foot difference between the pavement on the bridge and the pavement on the approaches, it was reported. This is now said to be in the process of being remedied.

The steel understructure the span at Parker Rd. has been damaged, it was reported. Some heavy equipment passing beneath was apparently too tall, it was said.

The Arbury Hills Boys Baseball League will have their December meeting at the school on Tuesday evening, Dec. 13, starting at 8:00 P.M. This meeting is of vital importance to the organization, since the newly written by-laws will be voted upon that night.

At the November meeting the original by-laws were read to the group and the wording of some articles were re-written. The necessary thirty days will be over with the December meeting, and the by-laws may now be officially voted upon.

In order that the organization may receive its charter with the state as a "not for profit" organization, it must have a workable set of by-laws. It would be appreciated by the organization, if everyone would make an effort to attend this meeting and cast a vote.

The Brownie Scouts of Troop Number 334, under the co - leadership of Mrs. Kathryn Ott and Mrs. Betty Sipin, will hold their investiture at the school tomorrow evening, Friday, Dec. 2. At that time the newcomers to the scouting program will be officially invested as Brownie Scouts and the other girls will be given their one year pins.

The Brownie Scouts of Troop Number 332, under the leadership of Mrs. Phyllis Prather and Mrs. Shirley Boothe, will hold their investiture at the school next Friday evening, Dec. 9. The troop will be invested as Brownies and the older girls will be given their one year pins.

Since both Mrs. Prather and Mrs. Boothe are also new to the scouting program this year, they will also be officially invested into scouting by Mrs. Alice Kilgore, who has been in scouting here in Arbury Hills since its inception.

Christmas Activities High On Scout List

Christmas activities for Cub Scouts and vacation camping for Boy Scouts will be high on the list of Scouting events in December in the Calumet council, Boy Scouts of America, according to Stan Davis, the council Scout Commissioner.

Cub Scouts in their packs and dens will carry out the theme, "Yuletide Everywhere," and Boy Scouts in their troops will learn skills for Winter Camping.

"In this season of goodwill, we have a good opportunity to make the meaning of the Cub Scout Promise, the Boy Scout Oath, and the other ideals of Scouting effective in the life of each boy", Davis said. "While Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts are learning new skills, they have the opportunity to be more helpful to leaders, parents, fellow Scouts, and those who are less fortunate."

Among the Cub Scout activities will be seasonal skits, caroling, winter activities, making of gifts and holiday decorations, service projects, and participation in the World Friendship Fund, Davis explained.

Advancement will be a major activity for Boy Scouts as they learn new Scouting skills and take part in vacation camps. Wintertime camping requires special techniques related to clothing, food, sleeping gear, and shelter.

Explorers, who are the high-school-age members of the Boy Scouts of America, will select from several suggested activities for December including a past presidents' night, a mock traffic court, and a business ownership investigation, Davis said.

Propose Service Area For Orland Ambulance

The Orland Park Village Board is now setting up a map embracing the territory to be served by the Fire Department ambulance crews.

The Orland Fire Department ambulance was the gift of the people. A fund drive arranged by Hank Anderson of Laguna Woods with the help of hardworking committee and considerable advance planning, was highly successful. Some $15,000 was raised in a 2-day campaign and more came in the days that followed.

The ambulance, a Cadillac, is equipped with every device that could aid in saving or preserving life while enroute to a hospital. It is the only ambulance in the Orland Park area.

The map now being prepared takes in all the territory in which funds were raised. Tentative limits:

The north boundary is 135th St. The western boundary is Bell Rd. The south boundary is 167th St. to 96th Av. where it drops south to 171st St. and along 171st to 84th Av. north to 159th and thence to Harlem Av.

It was explained that this does not preclude any other uses. Orland Fire Department belongs to the Des Plaines Valley Mutual Aid Association which is made up of volunteer fire departments over a wide area. There are instances when emergencies would necessitate sending the Orland ambulance where it was needed. By the same token if some disaster should occur in the Orland area or the Orland ambulance was out of commission a word from Fire Chief Arthur Granat would bring men and equipment from other departments. Mokena and New Lenox do not have ambulances but they have rescue squads. Homer fire districts have two ambulances and Lockport also has an ambulance. East Joliet also responds to calls when needed.

Ordinarily in accident cases and emergency illness patients are taken to the hospital nearest the scene. Just in case someone wanted the ambulance to transport him to some Chicago, or Evanston or Oak Park hospital, Trustee Cliff Mehling who is making up the map, advocates that the ambulance runs from the Orland area be limited to five hospitals, Silver Cross, Joliet; Ingalls Memorial, Harvey; Christ Community, Oak Lawn; St. Francis, Blue Island, and Little Company of Mary, Evergreen Park.

Village Attorney Raymond Pieper was instructed to draft a resolution setting up the territory to be served by the ambulance for action by the board at its next session, probably next Monday night. The meeting this Monday was adjourned until next Monday so a variety of things could be considered. Had the meeting adjourned and a special session called it would be limited to some particular item of business or program.

There was some discussion of establishing fire lanes at the Orland Plaza so there would always be space in front of each of the business establishments there so in event of fire the way would be open for apparatus. Some of this space is now taken up by parked cars, it was said.

The fact that the Plaza is private property presents a legal problem, Pieper pointed out, and how much authority the village would have in enforcing no parking in front of stores is a question for which he did not have a ready answer. He is to consult legal authorities.

It was pointed out that cities and village enforce "no smoking" rules in stores and other commercial establishments, altho they too are private property.

Ban Commercial Vehicles From Night Parking

On-street parking of commercial vehicles in general and trucks in particular will be banned in Orland Park between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m.

This was agreed to by the Orland Park Village Board at its regular session Monday night and Village Attorney Raymond Pieper was instructed to draw an ordinance to that effect.

The new ordinance will repeal the measure that was on the books, listed as No. 311.

There has been discussion on the phraseology of the ordinance for months. The stumper was the wording of the signs that will be posted about the streets. Trustee Cliff Mehling, street chairman will not proceed to have the signs made with the simplified wording. The way the other ordinance was worded would have required signs as large as billboards, it was pointed out.

Orland Police To Auction 2 Bikes Dec. 19

The Orland Park Police Department is to conduct an auction in the village hall on Beacon St. to dispose of two bicycles that have remained unclaimed for a year.

The bikes were found by police. It is possible that they had been stolen in some other area and abandoned in Orland Park, it was said.

One of them is a 24-inch, girl's bike and the other is a 26-inch boy's bicycle. The sale is to be held at 7 p.m., Dec. 19.

IAA Policies Adopted At Annual Convention

Illinois Farm Bureau convention delegates will ask the 1967 Illinois General Assembly to enact guidelines providing for the support of strong local governments.

Policy positions which will guide the Illinois Agricultural Association in the coming year were adopted by the organization's 496 voting delegates at the IAA annual meeting in Chicago.

The delegates took cognizance of the trend toward applying the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man-one vote" principle of equal representation to county boards and other local governmental units.

The IAA delegates pointed out that Farm Bureau long has supported strong local governments. They said that in order to maintain a voice in local government for all segments of the economy, any changes in Illinois relative to the apportionment of local governing bodies, should be based on the following principles:

"1. The legislature should provide guidelines for the apportionment of the governing boards of local governmental agencies.

"2. The guidelines should permit county boards, or the board of the other governmental agencies, to establish districts and provide for the election of one board member from each of such districts.

"3. In the apportionment of county boards in township governed counties, the minimum number of districts should be five and the legislature should provide for a maximum number of districts, classifying the counties according to population.

"4. The guidelines should provide that the boundaries of townships and of cities shall be followed except where it is necessary to divide a township or a city in order to attain the necessary population ratio.

"5. County board members should be elected for four-year terms with a provision for electing one-half the members every two years.

"6. The compensation of county board members should be on a per diem basis.

"We direct the Illinois Agricultural Association to endeavor to have the foregoing principles embodied in any legislation providing for the apportionment of county boards or of other local governmental agencies."

Other major policies adopted by IAA voting delegates:

Opposes trend toward centralizing broad authority in the executive branch of federal government. Asks that state and local governments be organized with sufficient resources, know-how, and authority to deal effectively with local and state problems. Asks IAA to cooperate with other groups in studying means to improve effectiveness of state and local government.

Pledges support for policies designed to create and maintain conditions giving farmers opportunity to earn an equitable income within a competitive economic system, believing that best opportunity for a high per family real income lies in placing reliance on competitive market price system rather than on government subsidies and regulations.

Seeks further expansion of domestic and foreign markets for farm products, with emphasis on developing sound dollar markets in foreign trade. Calls for gradual withdrawal from federal programs for individual commodities because they are too inflexible and backward looking to be adapted to modern market expansion.

Asks that price supports be used to protect farmers from drastic price declines and not as an incentive for production expansion or as price ceilings. Calls for definite restrictions on use of federal Commodity Credit Corporation stocks to prevent manipulation of market prices.

Opposes any effort by executive branch of federal government to hold down farm prices.

Decries activities of government which cause increasing inflation. Calls for elimination of unnecessary government spending and asks for gradual and systematic reduction in national debt.

Calls for information programs designed to point out real causes of inflation and to repudiate actions of those who attempt to shift the blame for inflation to farmers.

Urges American Farm Bureau Federation to continue to support legislation which will make possible supplemental financing for rural electric and telephone cooperatives.

Directs the IAA and urges the AFBF to encourage and to cooperate with major lenders in an educational program to assist farmers in better understanding the terms of various credit arrangements and methods by which such terms can be evaluated. Supports legislation to require disclosure of full cost of funds borrowed.

Directs IAA to support legislation which would permit use of SMV emblem (a highly reflective, triangular metal sign) as an alternative signalling device to the red flag and flashing red light provided under present law for slow moving vehicles.

Will support legislation, including necessary appropriations, for a research and diagnostic laboratory adequate to serve the livestock and poultry industry and to protect public health. Such a laboratory would supplement present serological and diagnostic laboratories of the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

Encourages formation of commodity organizations by producers of specific commodities, such as pork and soybeans, with their own leaders and officers, membership dues, and financial structure. The IAA and county Farm Bureaus then should be prepared to offer association or affiliation by suitable means to any commodity group which desires it. Asks IAA to establish a specific department to give assistance to county and state-wide commodity groups.

Supports legislation providing adequate revenue for functions of state government -- specifically, improving the assessment procedure, providing additional revenue from nonproperty tax sources on a pay-as-you-go basis (a corporate income tax, a flat rate income tax for individuals, and broadening of the sales or occupational tax.)

Urges adoption of appropriate constitutional amendment for reapportionment of the Illinois General Assembly. The proposal would be submitted to voters in 1968.

Calls for a study of legislative proposals to provide greater public protection, including proposals to require proof of financial responsibility before a state motor vehicle license is issued.

Will support legislation allowing disconnection from public water districts after the district is established.

NORMAN RICHARD
In hospital bed

Richard, who likes reptiles, was showing some of his collection to students, demonstrating how to handle snakes. Apparently he erred some place along the line because the water moccasin he was handling struck him on the left index finger.

Brookfield Zoo rushed some serum to the hospital but Richard declined to use it, preferring his own treatment which was to have an antibiotic of his selection injected into the bitten hand. It appeared to work very well.

Of course, it would have more news value had the teacher bitten the snake.

Alphabetical Groups Discuss Use Of U.S., State, School Funds

A joint effort by Thornton Fractional High School administrators, SCCEDC staff members, and consultant from the offices of the Superintendent of the Public Instruction and the County Superintendent to interest and involve teachers in development of programs primarily under E.S.E.A. was initiated Nov. 17.

About two hundred - fifty teachers from the high school and the underlying elementary, private and parochial schools met after the school day in Thornton Fractional South in response to the challenge.

As pointed out by Superintendent Dr. Jacob Milliken, the uses to which state and federal funds are put are largely dependent upon the teachers who must implement the programs.

Leading off the short introductory presentation, SCCEDC Executive Director L. Marvin Olmsted expressed the Coop's support of such conference and programs in the interest of helping kids, adding:

"Teachers are the most qualified to judge the needs of students and the value of programs to be developed."

made Christmas gifts. A $1.00 gift exchange will be held. Program chairman will be Mrs. Leo Kestel.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Bettenhausen and family spent Thanksgiving Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. alter Deuchler in Aurora.

Dinner guests for the Holiday of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sangmeister were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Reils and family of Monee and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Heisner and family of Manhattan.

Following an exchange between conference leaders on the programs possible under the various titles of E.S.E.A., faculty members gathered in special interest groups with leaders serving as resource persons to discuss and suggest ideas for programs.

As explained by conference leader Dr. John H. Tibbett, staff member of Purdue University and coordinator-consultant for TF's Cooperative, the task at hand was for the special interest teacher groups to select a group chairman responsible for notes to the group and further conference group meetings, to select a steering committee member, to turn in ideas, and to meet again to synthesize ideas developed into program proposal ideas.

In addition to Dr. Milliken, Dr. Tibbett and Mr. Olmsted, Gene Kimmel, District 157 superintendent, Roy E. McDermott and Alfred Redding, directors of the vocational and technical education division of the O.S.P.I., Steve LaPan, director of programs for the gifted, O. S. P. Den #2 had songs and games and den #1 presented the skit "Vaudeville on Stage." We wish to welcome a new Cub Scout to Pack #237. He is Stephen Anderson. We hope he likes Cub Scouting as much as the other boys do. Beginning this year we will not have a pack every month but every two months. This will give the den mothers and boys more time to prepare for their skits. For the months we do not have pack meetings, we will plan for outings, cook-outs, hikes and trips for roller skating, swimming and so forth. Our next pack meeting will be Friday, Dec. 23, at 7:30 at the Ann Rutledge school. This will be our Christmas party.

Can Share Christmas With GI's In Vietnam

The 300,000 U.S. servicemen in South Vietnam are a long way from home and most will not get back for the holidays.

The American Red Cross says local residents may share their Christmas with a GI or a group of soldiers in Vietnam. Omer Voss, volunteer chairman of Red Cross military service programs, says folks have been writing and phoning Red Cross to find out how to mail packages to lonely, strange GIs in Vietnam.

knows exactly what the fighting men over there would like for Christmas, and has a list of addresses of U.S. units in that country.

"Packages can be mailed to Red Cross personnel stationed with each unit," said Voss. "Our people will then see that the parcels are given away free, to as many troops as possible, during the holidays."

Voss said packages sent to strange GIs should be sent to a Red Cross Field Director assigned to a U.S. unit. Pick a fighting unit from the list below and fill out the four-line address.

A properly addressed package, for example, should have the words Field Director on the first line. The second line should have American Red Cross. The third line is for the name of the fighting unit and the APO number. The last line should read San Francisco, California.

Red Cross Field Directors are stationed with the following U.S. units in South Vietnam.

Fourth Corps, APO 96215

6251 Tac Ftr Wing, APO 96227

First Corps, APO 96337
3rd Eng. Group, APO 96312
Second Corps, APO 96295
1st Brig., 101st ABN, APO 96347

97th Eng. Group, APO 96238
2nd Air. Div., APO 96307
2nd Ord. Bn., APO 96307

First Cavalry, Air Mobile, APO 96490

First Infantry Div., APO 96345

173rd ABN Brig., APO 96227

San Francisco is the APO for all of these these.

What do the boys in Vietnam want for Christmas? Red Cross investigated and found out the most prized items that help make day-to-day living more enjoyable. In great demand are liquid bug repellent, lighter flints, foot powder, cakes of shaving soap and shaving brushes, double-edgerazors and blades, good ballpoint pens and refills.

The troops also want plastic soap dishes, sturdy pocket combs, small sewing kits, small plastic bags and all kinds of small puzzles and games that can be tucked inside a shirt or bag.

Less in demand, but still appreciated, are pre-sweetened powdered drinks and canned foods -- such as cookies, sardines, oysters, hams and favorite fruits.

"Holiday fruit cakes and cookies are very popular and most welcome, but only if they're in cans or tins," advised Mr. Voss. "Folks wishing to send home-made cookies should wrap each cookie separately in tissue, and then pack them tightly into a sturdy can."

Caramels, soft candies and perishable foods should not be mailed, because of extremely high temperatures and humidity in the country.

Always welcome gifts are recorded voices of the family (Red Cross has a free-record - making service), pictures of the family and hometown papers.

Voss said gifts should not be mailed to Red Cross offices in this area, nor could his organization pay postage for anyone desiring to send gifts to Vietnam.

To any of the young boys who have not been spoken to as yet, unless you are over 16 years of age you cannot go hunting by yourself or with other kids. You must have an adult with you. The following story is a good example of what can happen even when children are being watched closely.

It was the day before Thanksgiving and everything was going along fine except that little Jacqueline Cobb wasn't feeling too good so her mother, Sarah, went to the medicine cabinet and got the aspirin tablets and prepared to give one to Jackie, however at this time she (Jackie) got sick and threw up causing Sarah to take her into the bathroom to clean her up and change her clothes. When she returned to the kitchen (Possibly less than five minutes) she noticed that Barbara and Gregory had consumed quite a few of the aspirin tablets and it became necessary to take two children to the hospital. It was later found out that Gregory had taken about 25 adult aspirin and he had to spend Thanksgiving Day in the hospital. It was a sad Thanksgiving Day in the W.J. Cobb Household on Lenore Lane however all have recovered since, and can be attributed to Sarah's fast thinking.

Bernice Wood, Vicki Sumner and Bonnie Schultz also helped in this emergency.

Issue Permits For Houses At Orland

The County has issued two building permits for houses in Orland Township.

One is for a residence to be built on the northwest corner of 139th St. and Selva Av., for Ralph DeSchaaf, owner and contractor, of 8516 S. Laflin Av., Chicago. The cost of the dwelling is given as $32,000.

The other is a residence at 15024 S. 81st Av., costing $17,000. It is being built for John Eckenstein, 2552 W. 116th Pl. The contractor is Chapman Billstrand Home Builders, Inc.

The Orland Park village board gave provisional approval to a permit for residence for Victor Ebeling at 10055 W. 151st St., to cost $12,000. The approval was given pending the addition of the architect's stamp and signature to the plans and the payment of fees, including sewer tap-in.

Trustee Tony Kozak, chairman of the building committee asked the board for a policy decision on whether small room additions should carry an architect's seal and stamp. The ordinance calls for all building plans to be approved by an architect. The trustees referred the matter to the building committee for recommendation.

Leonard Schultz appeared before the village board to learn if there would be objections to having a light industrial plant along U.S. 45 if there was a 14-foot wide and 16-foot high overhead door were in the front of the building. There would be a similar opening at the rear so trucks could deliver steel, cement, sand and other products. The plant would fashion prefabricated items for railroads, Schultz said. He added that the building would have a brick front. The building committee is to study the question and Schultz advised to give the committee an architect's drawing showing the proposed front elevation this week so the committee can report at the adjourned meeting next Monday. There is nothing in the ordinance calling for architectural fronts for industrial and commercial buildings concerning the size or placement of doors, it was said.

Orland Teachers To Participate In Workshop Program

The Administration of Orland School District #135, is gratified by the large response of it's teachers, to the planned In-Service Education Workshop. Twenty-seven have already shown an interest in participating in the program, shortly to be launched at the Orland Park building.

Mr. Blain, principal of kindergarten, thru 5th grades, will be co-ordinator. The program will be conducted by members of the school staff, under his direction.

From a choice of five-course offerings, the majority of the teachers have chosen to study about instructing slow learners. The materials for the course are published by Science Research Associates, Inc., and will consist of materials for independent study by the teachers, as well as materials which stimulate discussions during the workshop classes.

The workshop meetings will consist of eight, two and a half hour sessions. The workshop will be held after school hours, at the convenience of those teachers taking part in the program.

One and a half semester hours of credit will be ap- plet to each teachers professional growth program, upon successful completion of the workshop.

It is generally realized that workshops of this nature serve an important function, it was pointed out. As teachers increase their training and are exposed to new techniques and ideas; the resultant better teaching methods which they employ, prove to be beneficial to the educational development of their students. Supt. Norbert Jerling said.

CONCORDIA CHOIR INVITED TO TREE LIGHTING CEREMONY

An invitation for The Kapelle to join President Lyndon B. Johnson as the select choir at the lighting of the National Christmas tree in Washington D.C., has been accepted by Dr. Martin L. Koehneke, president of Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Illinois.

Televised nationally, the 1966 Christmas Pageant of Peace is scheduled to take place in President's Park behind the White House in Washington at 5 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 16.

The 62-voice Kapelle, with voices from 17 states and Canada, directed by Thomas Gieschen, associate professor of music, will offer a concert in the park at 4:30 for a live audience of 10,000 expected for the occasion and will sing on the national television broadcast with the President.

Introducing the President and the choir will be the Honorable Stuart L. Udall, Secretary of the Interior under whose auspices the Christmas Pageant of Peace operates.

"The College is honored and thrilled by this unusual invitation," Dr. Koehneke commented, "and is glad that our well-known choir is granted the privilege of bringing its Christian witness to a troubled world."

In addition to the pageant and television appearance, The Kapelle will sing in the rotunda of the Senate office building at the invitation of Congressman Harold R. Collier and Senator Everett M. Dirksen. The group will also be guests of Congressman Collier at a special tour of the White House on Saturday morning.

A national tradition for thirteen years, the pageant is a visible expression of the nation's aspirations and desires to foster understanding and friendship between the nations of the world and the American people.

Principal attraction of the annual celebration is the national Christmas tree, presented this year by the state of California. Lining the "Pathway to Peace" leading up to the 60 foot red fir are 53 smaller trees, each twelve feet tall, representing one of the fifty states and three territories.

A life sized nativity scene floodlighted at night offers the spiritual meaning of Christmas while the festive Christmas is represented by eight live reindeer who normally live at the Washington National Zoological Park. A traditional Yule log burns day and night throughout the pageant which opens with the lighting of the national

Christmas tree by the President and runs through Friday, December 31.

Joy at Christmas

May the true joy of the greatest of all holidays reach into every hamlet and home. In this season of "Peace on earth, good will to men," may the happiness that comes with the real meaning of Christmas belong to us, one and all.

The Yule Log

The yule log is an old and honored Christmas tradition. It has almost vanished from out holiday celebrations.

The Vikings introduced the yule log to Great Britain. They burned it to honor the god Thor. The custom was adopted by the English as part of the Christmas festivities.

The very best log that could be found was brought into the house and placed in their large fireplace. The fire was lit and the servants of the house gathered with their master. The coming of Christmas was celebrated with much singing and celebrating.

The custom of those days was to celebrate the holiday season twelve full days and the log burned the entire time.

At the end of the twelve days any fragments of the log that remained were carefully collected to be used again the following year to kindle the new Yule log.

Stores Display Wide Variety Of Yule Gifts

Local merchants are advertising their wares in this issue of the Graphic Newspapers so that shoppers may have a wide variety of gifts to choose from before the Christmas rush begins. These merchants have gone all out to obtain the best quality and most-up-to-date merchandise that will provide excellent gift selections for everyone on your shopping list.

In a cooperative attitude, the Chamber of Commerce in Tinley Park is financing the decorations installed in the village to enhance the season and present a cheery Christmas greeting.

Wise shoppers will fill their gift needs by shopping at these local stores while supplies are plentiful. They will be pleased with the quality and variety of gifts that are available. By shopping locally now, you will prevent the last minute whirl of joshing crowds and exasperation of waiting in line.

Last, but not least, you help yourself when you shop locally as the sales tax returns to the village help to provide local improvements.

Christmas Decorations Add To Season's Gaiety

Centuries ago, Romans decorated their homes, public buildings and temples on festive occasions, and we have followed this ancient custom. In most communities at Christmas, there are beautifully decorated store windows, often depicting the holiday scenes.

The merchants along New York's famous Fifth Avenue vie with each other and spare no expense in the creation of luxury and beauty. The final displays attract such crowds that special roped-off areas are necessary and the public is kept moving by uniformed guards. In many cases the air is perfumed with some special fragrance and music accompanies the changing scenes of animated figures inside the windows.

Weeks before Christmas a giant Christmas tree is set up with such ceremony in the center of Rockefeller Plaza, decorated with huge colored baubles, and the lighting of the tree is the official opening of the Christmas season. The entire length of Park Avenue is lined with its own lighted Christmas trees, and it is a beautiful sight in snow. Many New York skyscrapers always dramatic against the night sky, are also aglow with red and green lights in honor of the occasion.

While New York goes all out for brilliant, sophisticated Christmas, emphasizing luxury with a touch of frivolity, other cities celebrate in their way. In some where traffic hazards do not prevent, the downtown streets are festooned with colored lights, bells, stars, candles, and other yuletide emblems.

Many American cities are famed for their distinctive street decorations, which visitors often drive many miles to see. For instance, since 1920, the city of Fresno, Calif., has featured its Christmas Tree Lane. This is slightly less than two miles in length and is said to be the longest in our country.

The project began on a small scale, but by 1930 the great cedars lining Van Ness Avenue had been lighted with colored bulbs for a quarter of a mile. Then, in 1959, more than 300 stately trees had been festooned with lights.

how to use bank charge cards

common-sense counsel from Talman—the savings institution

Published as a public service to all thrifty people.

Just now Chicagoans are being deluged by a costly advertising campaign by the city's banks, promoting charge cards—"easy credit and easy money."

This matter was the subject of a luncheon conversation, a few days ago, between Ben Bohac, Talman's founder, and a close friend of his, one of the city's most respected bankers. Both men, lifetime-wise in the ways of money-lenders, expressed extreme distaste for the whole scheme, because of the harm it could do to young, struggling families unaware of the pitfalls therein.

Accordingly the Talman officer whose job is to talk to the people about money matters was asked to look into the charge-card business, find out what people ought to know about it, and tell them. This is his report.

The facts you need to know

It didn't require much research to find out who pays what, and when. We called on two friends, merchants in the neighborhood.

The first one is a large-volume cash-only appliance dealer. We asked him if the charge-card salesman had been in, and what their pitch was. He said, "Yes, the man was in. I asked him what it would cost me. He said 2% of each charge. I said good-bye. That was the end of our conversation." Not much help, but it established one point. The merchant pays, too, and whatever he pays to the bank must be added to the price of his merchandise, or it comes out of his profit.

Next call was on a watchmaker who keeps a small jewelry store. This was more fruitful. He had a charge-card sign in his window, and a boxful of application-forms on the counter inside. He also showed us his contract with the bank. That bank pays him 95% of each charge-slip he deposits, for purchases under $150, or an immediate discount of 5%; on a substantial volume he might earn a rebate of up to 1%. Big-ticket charges cost less; 3% discount on $150 to $349.99; 2% on $350 to $499.99 and 1% on $500 and over.

He said, "Of course it will cut heavily into my profit unless it brings me a lot of business I wouldn't otherwise get. I'm gambling on that. I hesitate to mark up my stock because most people pay cash and I don't want to scare them away. Besides, I can't tell whether a sale will be cash or charge until after it's made."

We may assume that if most of the people who used to buy for cash from this merchant switch to credit, he'll mark up his prices to cover the bank's charges, and his remaining cash buyers will get stuck too. How's that for an inflationary threat?

There, also, we picked up the credit application form that has the complete cardholder agreement on it.

While reading the fine print, we noticed that this agreement is printed on the part of the application form that has to be mailed in—so the average applicant for a charge-card will not have a copy of the agreement that binds him unless he picks up two of the forms.

The fine print in this case is really microscopic—though none the less important. Many people will be tempted to sign the form in the store without ever reading the fine print. We must caution people never to do that, but to pick up two of the forms, take them home, read all the fine print and meditate upon what they read, before signing any application for credit and before buying anything they cannot pay for at once. This advice, of course, applies to all time-payment deals and to mortgages, not just to bank charge cards. Always read the fine print before you sign anything.

Bank-charge fine print: translated and enlarged

Here is the gist of the fine print in the bank-charge form that we picked up in the jewelry store, in plain English:

1. Charge cards are dangerous to carry and even more dangerous to mislay, because a thief could bankrupt you before you could get word to the issuing bank that the card was lost or stolen. Until the bank receives that notice, in writing, you are responsible for all charges on the card. A telephone call won't protect you.
2. The "instant cash" feature is actually a loan from the bank, and on that loan you always pay interest at the rate of 18% per annum—12 times 1½% per month—(unless increased under the escalator clause) from the date the cash advance slip is received by the bank until you pay the money back. This should not be confused with the payment provisions for purchases, which are different.
3. To escape service charges on credit extended for purchases, you must pay in full within 25 days of the date of the monthly statement, not the day you receive it. It is probable that the statement will not reach you until some days after the statement date.
4. Carrying charges on purchases, if incurred, are computed from the statement date, not from 25 days thereafter. The rate is 18% per annum, unless increased under the escalator clause.
5. If the total you owe the bank by reason of all charges on all your family's credit cards ever exceeds your credit limit, all you owe immediately becomes payable on demand.

6. The bank will not recognize any dispute you may have with a merchant over purchases charged. A dispute over the goods will never excuse you from the bank's service charges nor from any other requirements.

7. If you fail to pay when due; if you die, go bankrupt, or even if "issuer (the bank) in good faith deems itself insecure for any reason whatsoever," the full amount you owe becomes immediately due, and you must pay the bank's costs of collection, including attorneys' fees and legal expenses.

8. The bank can modify the agreement at any time, on written notice to you, and you thereupon become bound by the modification. This is the "escalator clause." Possible modifications of the agreement include an increase in the rate of service charges, subject only to legal limits, and an increase, without limit, in required payments.

Later, we picked up other bank-charge application forms and read the fine print in those also. Mostly they cover the same ground in about the same way, but we noted important differences in the charges for cash advances. One bank charges 18% per annum for the month in which the cash loan is drawn; that contract also contains a confession-of-judgment clause specifying a charge of 15% of the debt for attorneys' fees. Another bank charges only 12% a year on cash advances. So it pays to shop carefully, even for bank charge-cards.

Who should use this deal, and how

Now you know enough about bank charge-cards to decide intelligently whether you should use this service or not.

For any family that has a steady income in excess of its day-to-day needs, and has a good backlog of savings, the cards represent a convenience of some worth, although bank-charge credit terms are considerably less liberal than those of the large department-stores. Such a family will naturally pay all statements in full when received, and so will ordinarily escape all service charges. The cards also have a value as an identification and credit reference when away from home, so many people like to carry them even though they are seldom used.

On the other hand, for families whose income is low or irregular and uncertain, and who therefore must pinch pennies to make ends meet, all credit cards are an open invitation to disaster. To such a family we say flatly, any purchase you cannot pay for in full when the bill comes is a purchase you cannot afford and should not make. If you cannot pay for the purchase, how are you going to pay for both the purchase and the 18%-a-year cost of credit? The answer that you can pay so-much-a-month is no good, because eventually you must pay the last penny according to the fine print. Come hard times, with increased personal bankruptcies and credit losses to the banks, the cost of your credit is likely to go up, under the escalator clause—that's what the escalator clause is for.

In a nutshell, "easy credit" is only for people who don't need credit. For everyone else, the only sound payment plan for living expenses, appliances, vacations, automobiles, in fact for everything except a home and a college education, is the Bohemian Easy Payment Plan—100% down and no payments.

People who need credit can afford to take the time and trouble to shop economically, with cash, from merchants who do not add the cost of credit to their prices. By that practice, the average family of limited means can make its income go at least 30% farther than it could if saddled with permanent debt through charge cards and conventional installment financing. By the practice of thrift and cash buying, the average Chicago wage-earner and his family can both live reasonably well and accumulate substantial savings—real money available for any need.

Talman knows. Talman was built to an institution of over $500 million assets by wise management of the savings of Chicago families of average means and average earning power. What they have done any others like them can do. But not with charge cards.

Santa's Helpers

Santa is sometimes pictured as traveling by rocket or jet plane. However, his favorite mode of transportation is still the famous reindeer-drawn sleigh. It remains a wonder that he is still jolly, when he has to cover the world in one night.

The explanation may be found in the number of helpers that he has, and also the fact that Christmas Eve is not the only day for delivering gifts.

St. Nicholas, a real bishop, was the first "Santa". Many legends grew up around his name and many centuries after his death on Dec. 6, about 342 A.D., he was honored as a friend to the young. Dec. 6 became "Children's Day", and St. Nicholas, traveling by horse, brought gifts to reward children for good behavior.

In Scandinavia and some other countries, Santa gets an assist from St. Lucy, who is responsible for the distribution of gifts on her day, Dec. 13.

Many Spanish children expect The Three Kings to bring them gifts on Epiphany, Jan. 6. They, too, set out shoes filled with straw and grain for the horses the Kings ride.

MANY HELPERS

Whatever the gift-giving date, Santa has a host of helpers to lighten his load. In addition to St. Lucy, Scandinavian countries have the Tomtar, little grey bearded men who are said to hide gifts for boys and girls on Christmas Eve. The Christ Child or Kristkind brings the gifts in many countries.

In Italy the traditional gift giver is Befane, sometimes described as a benevolent fairy and sometimes as a witch. Legend says that she misdirected the Magi or that she refused to shelter the Holy Family. Now she goes around the world, in repentance, seeking the Christ Child and doing good to children on Christmas Eve.

Manger Scenes

The setting up of manger scenes of the Nativity has become a popular custom. The idea started in 1223, at Creccio, Italy. St. Francis of Assisi assembled such a scene with real people and live animals. He wanted to make the story of Christ's birth real to his followers.

This movement spread through Italy and to other lands, especially in Southern Europe, where manger scenes rather than the Christmas trees formed the center of the holiday observance. In the United States each year more churches, clubs, and homes use displays, both indoor and out.

The Moravian family sets up an elaborate Christmas scene—the "Putz"—which pictures not only the Holy Family, but also village scenes showing the life of the people.

Make It With Rope

Rope, hemp, twine and burlap all lend themselves to holiday decorations.

L-W Five Finishes Third At Lockport

Lincoln - Way's varsity basketball team finished third in the Lockport Central annual Holiday Ball by defeating the Peoria Richwoods 65-55 in the consolation round.

Lockport again won the tourney crown by topping Joliet Catholic High 62 to 51.

In the semi-finals Catholic High came from behind to knot the score at 66-all against Lincoln-Way and then plumped in nine points in the overtime while the Knights were unable to score. The game ended with the Hilltoppers the victors, 75-66.

In the consolation round, however, it was a different story for the Knights. Mike Seitzinger, a 6 foot 4 inch varsity veteran of three seasons, scored 33 points but had a bad night at the free throw line. He clicked on 12 out of 17 shots from the field but missed 10 out of 19 free throws.

Pat McCabe, a junior who is also 6-foot 4-inches, racked up four buckets and four free throws for a 12-point total. Other Lincoln-Way players contributed 20 points -- Eden 2, Stanfill 9, Fredin 2 and M. McCabe 7.

Honor 3 Will Co. 4-H Leaders At Banquet

Three Will County 4-H Leaders were honored, along with leaders from all parts of the state, in the annual Illinois 4-H Leaders Recognition Banquet in Springfield, held on Tuesday, Nov. 22.

Leaders attending from this area were: Arthur Strawson of Wilmington, Mrs. Shirley Moeller of Plainfield and Mrs. Munroe Gorman of Monee. Assistant Farm Adviser Webster E. Bay accompanied the group to Springfield.

The morning session of the all-day program was held in the House Chambers of the State Capitol Building. "Know Your State Government" was the theme for the morning program, with state government leaders taking part.

At noon the leaders attended the banquet in their honor in the ballroom of the St. Nicholas Hotel. Banquet speaker was Charles T. Vetter, Jr., lecturer and information coordinator, office of Public Information, United States Information Agency, Washington, D.C.

The annual 4-H Leaders Recognition Banquet was sponsored jointly by the Illinois Retail Merchants Association and the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

2 Sandburg Teachers Attend Ill. Business Educators Convention

Teachers Diane Pacione and Dolores Van Leeuwen represented Carl Sandburg High School's business education department at the Illinois Business Educators Association convention at the St. Nicholas Hotel in Springfield last weekend.

"Meeting Tomorrow's Challenge Today," was the theme of the convention, attended by more than 500 teachers from around the state. The implications of the new Elementary and Secondary Education Act on business education was stressed by speakers prominent in the business fields.

Several Sandburg business teachers are enrolled in courses in vocational education. The school can qualify for federal reimbursement because of this.

Miss Van Leeuwen and Mr. David Montgomery are currently enrolled in "Administration and Supervision of Cooperative Business Education," which is a requirement for vocational in-school teachers -- a facet of the Vocational Education Act of 1963 in which Sandburg is participating.

Other teachers who are already qualified by virtue of having taken this course and another called "Directed Occupational Experience" are Richard Ebert, Mrs. Violet Bimm, Marjorie McGee, Diane Pacione, and Merri Meier.

Mrs. Bimm, department chairman, is currently enrolled in a seminar for business education supervisors and in a course in public control of the American schools.

Stagg Cagers Split With Reavis Squads

The Stagg Chargers split a pair of basketball games with Reavis winning the soph contest 48-44 but being overpowered in the varsity opener, 68-35.

Stagg will have no senior class until next fall, so its juniors are competing with older, more experienced squads in every sport.

In the prelim, Stagg was paced by Deane Meier who popped in 23 points, and by Russell Jackson, who scored 11. Diaz and Bibro led the Reavis sophs with 16 and 13, each.

By the end of the first quarter of the varsity match, Reavis had pulled out in front 19-11. At the half, their lead was 41-23; after three quarters it was 54-28. The Rams substituted liberally in the final period.

Center Mike Jacoby paced the Rams' attack with 22 points, most of them on tip-ins. Joe DeFilippis and Harry Page hit 12 and 11 each.

The main guns for Stagg were Doug Osborn and Rod Stanis with 10 each, and Chuck Brinkman with 9.

On Dec. 9-10, Stagg plays at Rich Central and at H. L. Richards. Marist visits the Stagg gym on Dec. 17.

The varsity will play in the Quigley South Tournament, Dec. 27-30. The Charger Sophomores play in Lockport West's tourney Dec. 20-23.

Mrs. Creer To Head Orland Park March On Cerebral Palsy

Mrs. Clarence E. Creer, 14228 Union St., Orland Park, has been named chairman of the "53 - Minute March" on cerebral palsy for this area according to Arthur Rubloff, chairman of the Board of United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago. The annual march will take place on Sunday, Jan. 15.

Mrs. Creer, in accepting the chairmanship, said that fine cooperation had been given by the residents of this area in the past. She said, "United Cerebral Palsy needs the generous support of our community again -- not only in money, but in volunteer help as well."

A goal of $500,000 has been set for Cook, Lake, DuPage and Kane counties. There are now approximately 21,000 children and adults with cerebral palsy in this Greater Chicago area. The funds collected on the march support the Agency's program of direct services, research and education. Direct services include a Child Developmental Center, summer camp programs for children and adults, adult activity groups and family

Fire Damages Lounge On Rt. 45 At Orland

The Orland Park Fire Department made an excellent stop of fire that broke out in the roof at the Village Lounge, a 2-story structure at the southeast corner of 143d St. and LaGrange Rd., late Sunday afternoon.

Wiring was blamed for the blaze according to Fire Chief Arthur Granat. The fire damage was not so extensive but there was water damage too, despite the fact that getting water on the fire was not an easy task.

There isn't any water main at that point on the east side of LaGrange Rd., it was ex-counseling. In the last year allocations totaling $91,180 were made to support research projects and professional training in the state of Illinois, at such leading institutions as the University of Illinois, Chicago Medical School and Cook County Hospital.

Cerebral palsy usually strikes at birth. The "53-Minute March" theme is significant because a child is born with cerebral palsy every 53 minutes.

There is no known cure and the person with cerebral palsy lives a normal life span with this condition; however, they can be, and are, helped to achieve a more worthwhile life thru the services provided by United Cerebral Palsy.

plained, so hose lines had to be run across the highway, necessitating the tying up of traffic.

Chief Granat appeared at the village board meeting Monday to express his appreciation of the work done there by members of the police department in handling the situation.

"It was an excellent job," Granat said.

The fire alarm came in about 5 p.m.

Invite S. Suburban Students To View Chemistry Career

Students from south suburban schools have been invited to attend the 10th annual Chemistry Career Seminar to be sponsored by the Chemical Industries Council, Midwest.

The seminar will be held on Saturday, Jan. 7, at the Pick - Congress Hotel, Chicago. Students will attend from 10:00-12:00 and from 1:00-3:00.

A feature of the seminar is person - to - person counseling by men from chemical and pharmaceutical companies located in the Chicago area. The men will outline the requirements for a career in chemistry. Representatives from Chicago area colleges and universities will counsel students on educational requirements.

The students will receive an orientation to careers in the chemical industry thru a special film and thru panel sessions, which will cover the basic career areas in the industry - research, production, marketing and miscellaneous job categories.

A special area has been set aside for displays and demonstrations. These will include a low temperature demonstration by Union Carbide Corporation, a demonstration of laboratory glassblowing by Roosevelt University and a water purification demonstration from Nalco Chemical Co.

Free educational literature from companies and educational institutions will be available for the students.

According to Charles Parrott, Shell Chemical Company, CIC seminar chairman, this is the only type of event held in Chicago designed to provide students with first - hand information on the many jobs in chemistry. Parrott feels that this will be the most successful seminar to date. He said that over 700 students are expected to attend.

The Chemical Industries Council - Midwest is composed of 37 leading chemical and pharmaceutical companies. Its prime purpose is to provide educational information to students and to teachers.

Don't be a conversation dropout. Graduate to the News.

Remember conversation? The way grownups used to communicate before diapers, dishes and runny noses took over the world?

Grownups are still at it, you know. Care to rejoin them? It's easy to do through the pages of the Daily News.

If the only "pop art" you've seen lately is what the kids splash on the kitchen walls, brush up with art critic Franz Schulze.

If "current events" sounds too much like last month's light bill, switch on Keyes Beech, David M. Nichol and our other overseas correspondents.

And if you're having trouble telling the "doves" from the "hawks", flock to Peter Lisagor, our chief bird-watcher in Washington.

Grownup talk? The Daily News has got it. So get it.

And welcome back to the world.
